Cutty Sark must sail again
By Captain Robert Wyld
The last person to take the clipper’s helm on the open sea

As a child, I knew the names of the ships, the stories of their adventures, and the tales of their captains. As a young man, I realized that the sea was not just a place for adventure, but a place of mystery and wonder. I dreamed of exploring the world on the open sea, following in the footsteps of the great explorers of the past.

Now, as a captain, I have the opportunity to fulfill my dreams. Cutty Sark is one of the few remaining clipper ships, and I am determined to take her out to sea again. The world is waiting for our return, and I am ready to face any challenge.

Our journey will take us to the far corners of the world, from the icy north to the scorching south. We will encounter powerful storms and treacherous currents, but we will not be deterred. We will face the challenges of the sea head-on, and emerge victorious.

Cutty Sark is a symbol of the spirit of adventure and exploration. She represents the courage and determination of those who have sailed before us. I am honored to be a part of this tradition, and I am ready to take Cutty Sark out to sea again.

The sea calls to us, and we must answer. Let us set sail and explore the world together. The world is waiting for Cutty Sark to return.
